

Sharikatul Hussain Saturday Workshop Academic Year 2020

Tablet (iPad) Policy

Data Protection and Security

- All devices are enrolled into the workshops 'Mobile Device Management' system. At no point should anyone attempt to remove the device from this system.
- All devices are centrally managed by the workshops nominated specialists. Do not attempt to manage the device yourself via iTunes or any other management software.
- The workshop has locked out all irrelevant features and applications that are not required for delivering the content and curriculum set out by the workshop.
- The passwords for your iPad devices are pre-set by the workshop; these could change at any audit/review points.
- Not all content is fully backed up, please do not attempt to jailbreak your device, or otherwise hack, or tamper with it in anyway.
- For compliance reasons, your devices could called for an audit at point.

User Responsibility

- Your iPad device must be in its protective case at all times.
- Handle your device with care and respect. Do not throw, damage, place heavy items on, or intentionally drop your device.
- Only approved cleaning materials can be used to clean your device, such as laptop or tablet sprays and cloths.
- Do not keep, or leave your iPad unattended in vehicles or any other public spaces.
- Keep your iPad safe and secure at all times. You should know where your iPad is at all times.
- Ensure your battery is kept charged, and ready for use at the workshop at all times. Avoid allowing your battery to fully drain before charging it, i.e charge your tablet at all possible opportunities.
- In the rare event you have not been able to charge your device, the workshop will assist with charging your device in the staff room, however this will mean you will be unable to fully participate in your class while your device is charging.
